FOUR PINNED UNDER TOURING CAR WHEN IT TURNED TURTLE SUNDAY

Occupants Were From Columbus and
Were on Their Way to Zanesville
When Accident Occurred Four Miles East of This City

AMBULANCE RUSHED TO SCENE WITH PHYSICIANS

Only Two Injured, One Being Under Car Fifteen Minutes—Taken to City Hospital Where Injuries Were Dressed—Narrow Escape from Death for the Seven Young Men Who Were Taking Pleasure Ride.

Failing to take a double turn in the road successfully, a big 7-passenger Packard touring car driven by Samuel Maglin, a chauffeur for the M. P. Murnan garage, Columbus, and occupied by six other Columbus young men said to be glass workers, turned turtle Sunday afternoon, about two miles east of Stadden's bridge, east of the city. Four of the men were caught under the machine. Two of them, Samuel Maglin the driver and Frank Green, were more or less severely injured when they were pinned under the wreckage. The auto ambulance of Bazler & Bradley and Drs. U. K. Essington and Carl Evans hurried to the scene of the accident and the two injured men were brought to the city and taken to the hospital. Maglin was able to leave the institution after his injuries were dressed. Green remained at the hospital until 3:50 when he was taken to the Pennsylvania train and sent to Columbus. Five of the men in the wrecked car refused to give their names and an effort was made to conceal the identity of the injured men. No reason was assigned for this except that they did not want their names to get into the papers. The accident occurred about 2:00 o'clock. The party arrived in Newark about noon and took lunch here. They started for Zanesville shortly before 2 o'clock. The scene of the accident was at a double turn in the road described as an "S" curve. The driver made the first turn in good shape, the car moving at a reasonable rate of speed according to the driver's statement. Not being familiar with the road, Maglin wasn't looking for the second turn and failed in his effort to make it successfully. The machine cut into the new dirt alongside the road and skidded into the ditch. It toppled over, crashing through a wire fence along the roadside. Three of the men jumped or were thrown from the car while the other

PROGRESSIVE MEMBERS OF CONGRESS MUST SOON MAKE DECLARATION OF FAITH

Washington, D. C., Sept. 16.—Information reaches Washington that many curious political flops are likely to take place during the next two weeks, the participants in these acrobatic stunts being Progressive members of congress who are devoting their time and attention, pending the active stage of the campaign, to looking around for a place to light. From the minute when Theodore Roosevelt, beaten at Chicago, announced his intention of running for the presidency, not as an independent Republican, but as the candidate of

GENERAL STRIKE URGED BY LABOR LEADER HEYWOOD— ARRESTED AND GIVES BAIL

Boston, Sept. 16.—William D. Heywood of Denver, general organizer of the Industrial Workers of the World, was arrested here Sunday on a capias warrant issued as the result of an indictment by the Essex county grand jury charging him with conspiracy in connection with the strike of textile workers in Lawrence last winter. He was released on $1,000 bond.

The exact nature of the conspiracy with which Heywood is charged was not mentioned in the indictment. Just before his arrest Heywood addressed a mass meeting of 15,000 persons on Boston Common, had sounded a call for a general strike of New England workers to begin a nationwide movement as a protest against the arrest, imprisonment and trial of Ettore, Giovannitti and Caruso.

The three Industrial Workers, who were active during the Lawrence strike, are charged with complicity to murder in connection with the shooting of a striker, Anna Lopizzo, during a meeting at Lawrence last January. At yesterday's meeting banners were displayed calling for the release of the three leaders, and Heywood was cheered when he said:

"We will open the jail doors or close the mill gates." In urging a general strike the speaker declared it probably would be a fact by the end of the coming week, and that it surely would come before September 30, the date set for the beginning of the leaders' trials. He advised the assembly workers to begin the strike today.

"If you leave your benches tomorrow, you will make no mistake," he said. "Any time between now and September 30 will do, but the sooner the better. If you go out tomorrow you will be the forerunners, the vanguard of a great movement for freedom."

Heywood declared that such a strike was a movement of general protest, would "save lives just as did that great movement of sympathy and support which resulted in the vindication of Moyer, Pettibone and myself."

The indictment on which Heywood was arrested was returned by the Essex county grand jury several months ago, and although the state police made preparations to arrest him when it was announced that he would come into the state Sunday, no interference with the mass meeting was attempted.

Heywood held a reception on the common, delivered his speech, and then hurried away through the crowd to one of the common exits, where officers of the state police met him and took him in an automobile to the police station. He was ordered to appear before the superior criminal court of Essex county at Lawrence today.

Bail was furnished by Attorney Fred H. Moore of Los Angeles, who has been engaged to defend Ettore, Giovannitti and Caruso. To attend the protest meeting on the common more than 20,000 of the mill operatives who were on strike in Lawrence last winter came to Boston in three special trains.

four found themselves beneath the wreck. The car turned completely over, the wheels spinning in the air when the work of rescue was started.

Wadsworth Mattingly, Louis Mattingly and H. M. Prior, who live nearby were attracted by the crash of the wreck and the cries of those who were uninjured.

With the assistance of those who escaped injury, the big car was up-lifted and Green and Maglin were released from their perilous positions.

Maglin was caught under the steering wheel. The rod of the steering apparatus was broken and Maglin's body was forced into the soft earth. He suffered much pain through the abdomen but was able to walk.

Green was the more seriously injured of the two. He was pinned under the back of the rear seat and suffered much pain about the chest. His legs were also badly bruised. It was fifteen minutes after the accident before Green was rescued.

After the men were removed from beneath the car, they were carried to the home of Wadsworth Mattingly where they were cared for until the arrival of the ambulance and surgeons. Green was given "first aid" attention and placed on the cot in the ambulance. Maglin refused to ride in the vehicle declaring that he was not hurt badly. He was brought to Newark by B. B. Jones in his automobile.

Members of the party called the Murnan garage from the Mattingly home, telling of the accident and ordering another car to meet them in Newark. At the City Hospital, it was discovered that Maglin was not seriously hurt and after several minor hurts were dressed he left the hospital. A careful examination of Green failed to reveal any broken bones, though he suffered much pain during the afternoon and evening. His only danger is that internal injuries might develop later.

About 5 o'clock men from the Auditorium garage succeeded in turning the car over on its wheels and it was brought to Newark under its own power. Aside from the demolished top and the broken steering gear, it was not badly damaged. After minor repairs it was returned to Columbus in charge of men from the Murnan garage. The members of the party other than Green and a companion, returned to the capital city on the Ohio Electric.

MAYOR KARB

Of Columbus Ordered Before Court
to Give Reasons for Not Reinstating Chief Carter.

Columbus, O., Sept. 16.—Before Judge E. B. Dillon of the Franklin county common pleas court today, Mayor George J. Karp, in response to an order from the court, gave his reasons for not reinstating Charles E. Carter, whom he discharged as chief of police, and who, following a hearing before the civil service commission, was reinstated. Mayor Karp claims to have final jurisdiction in the case of the deposed chief, notwithstanding the ruling of the commission, which vindicated the chief of the charges of incompetence and failure to enforce the laws against gambling in the city, as was charged by the mayor, and reinstated him.

Thomas F. O'Neil, appointed chief by Mayor Karp following the dismissal of Carter, is still in charge of the police force, and the patrolmen are showing signs of no little concern, because they are not sure whom they should look to for orders. What they want to know is, who is chief?

Hamilton, O., Sept. 16.—Charles Fitzwater, Ed Perry, Frank Brown and John Hill, ranging from 19 to 21 years old, Sunday were arrested and confessed to the robbery of five Middletown stores.

GUN MEN MAINTAIN SILENCE

Put through Four Hours' Examination but "Stand Pat"

WIVES ARE ALSO HELD

Will be Used as Witnesses in the Rosenthal Case—No Reward for Police.

New York, Sept. 16.—Every effort of police and district attorney to induce "Gyp the Blood" and "Lefty Louie" to break their silence has so far failed. The arrest of these two gun men, completing the roundup of all men wanted in connection with the murder of Herman Rosenthal, the gambler, just two months ago last night, was followed by four hours' examination of the new prisoners yesterday.

The men were examined separately by Deputy Police Commissioner George S. Dougherty, and by Assistant District Attorney Frank Moss, in the absence of District Attorney Charles S. Whitman, but according to both Mr. Dougherty and Mr. Moss, "Gyp" and "Louie" were determined to "stand pat." Nothing whatever in the nature of a confession could be obtained from them.

In an effort to reinforce evidence against the men, the police formally held their wives as material witnesses, as well as a third man, Max Kahn, who, the police say, is a pickpocket and who was in the flat with the gun men and their wives when detectives broke in upon them at supper Saturday night. All three of these witnesses were arraigned before Coroner Feinberg and held in $10,000 bail each. The police also seized a large number of papers in the flat where the capture was made.

Mr. Moss said no promise of leniency had been given the prisoners for admissions such as some of those concerned in the murder have made, resulting in the indictment of Police Commissioner Charles Becker as the instigator of the crime.

Hogowitz and Rosensweig probably will be arraigned on a formal charge of murdering Rosenthal before a justice of the supreme court this afternoon. It is expected that the arraignment will take place in Justice Goff's court.

Although the district attorney's office has offered $500 for the capture of "Gyp the Blood" and "Lefty Louie," the police detectives who brought about their arrest will not get the reward. The provisions of Mr. Whitman's offer specifically barred the police.

So far as developments here were concerned there was no evidence of friction between the police and the district attorney's office over the handling of the case in its latest phases. Police headquarters scouted the information that there was significance in the fact that the arrest of the two men followed closely upon Mr. Whitman's departure for Hot Springs. It was pointed out that Mr. Moss was called in immediately to represent Mr. Whitman, and given every opportunity to examine the prisoners.

TO INVESTIGATE SCHEPPS' STORY

Hot Springs, Ark., Sept. 16.—Did Sam Schepps, held in New York as a witness in the Rosenthal murder case while here in August, say that Police Lieutenant Becker was the victim of a plot, only to proceed to New York and tell District Attorney Whitman and the grand jury a story that immediately preceded a supplementary indictment against the notice officer accused of instigating the murder? This is the question Mr. Whitman and John F. McIntyre, chief of counsel for Becker, will inquire into in Hot Springs this week.

G. D. Burns, said to have been an agent of the defense, left Hot Springs last Tuesday for a stay of several days. While here he was known as a correspondent of a New York newspaper. Among others to whom he talked was Douglas Hotchkiss, editor of a local paper, and Police Captain George Howell, who had Schepps in custody after the latter's arrest.

Mr. Hotchkiss and Captain Howell yesterday reiterated previous denials that Schepps at any time had intimated to them that Becker was a scapegoat.

TWO KILLED BY TRAIN.

Wheeling, W. Va., Sept. 16.—Harry Setton of Cambridge and "Red" Tinanan of Bailey's Mill were killed by a B. & O. train near Barnesville Sunday. Both fell asleep on the tracks.

ELEVEN DROWN IN MICHIGAN

Squall Strikes Lake and Capsizes Cutter of Naval Station

8 BODIES RECOVERED

All Were Youths Between 16 and 23 Years Old—Fourteen Escaped Alive.

Chicago, Sept. 16.—Eleven youths, between 16 and 23 years old, were drowned in Lake Michigan late Sunday afternoon, when a cutter from the United States Naval Training Station at North Chicago was capsized in a storm.

The boys were naval apprentices. The bodies of five of the victims have been recovered and identified.

The five identified dead:
R. C. Harlan, 18, Bloomington, Ind.
I. L. Southworth, 18, 312 1-2 Jane street, Pittsburg, Pa.
J. Wallace, 18, Turner, Ind.
W. N. Ambrosius, 21, 32 Regent street, Indianapolis, Ind.
J. A. Patton, 23, Stanton, Ohio.

The missing:
Privates Caminin, Winkler, J. R. Cooke, Stanley, J. F. Jackson and Field.

There were just thirteen of the apprentices and the gunner's mate who escaped alive. The roll call of the rescued showed the following names at the hospital last night: A. I. B. Nelson, Private Fischer, Private Wratt, M. N. Stockton, Private Shorack, W. L. Earley, A. C. Wild, William James Patterson, William Erickson, William Knudson, Private Bauld, Private Pullen and Gunner's Mate Negis.

The boys were from the Middle and Western states.

The party, in which were 24 apprentices, left the training station shortly after 2 o'clock in charge of Gunner's Mate M. N. Negis, and after cruising about for two hours headed for North Chicago.

A few minutes later, while the cutter was north of Lake Forest, a squall struck the boat, the sails were lowered and an anchor was thrown out.

Negis, it is said, planned to let the cutter ride out the storm, but the waves soon were running so high that the boat dragged its anchor and gradually was being driven onto the beach.

When within 200 feet of the shore the cutter overturned and its occupants were thrown into the water.

Captain W. F. Fullam, commandant of the naval training station, saw the danger of the apprentices from his headquarters and sent a motor boat to the rescue. This craft also was capsized before it had gone far and the men in charge of it were obliged to swim back to the shore.

Later a force of rescuers was sent along the shore to where the cutter had been wrecked. Many of the boys swam to land and others floated ashore on oars and wreckage.

JAIL DELIVERY AT CHILlicothe

Chillicothe, Sept. 16.—Seven prisoners saved the bars of the Ross county jail during the night and escaped. They were not missed until this morning. Mrs. Anna Wolfe, wife of one of the escaped prisoners, who visited the jail twice yesterday, and who is believed to have aided the men in getting away, has been arrested and is now in jail. A big hack saw used by the men was found in one of the cells.

WILLIAM PAPKE, GROCER, WILL BE 26 TOMORROW

Tomorrow will be the 26th birthday of William Papke, dealer in plain and fancy groceries, provisions, fruits and vegetables, fish, poultry, butter, eggs and country produce. This may not seem important, but the sport with a long memory will recall that this same Grover Papke, in the first flush of young manhood, before the years had set their mark upon him and transformed him into a doddery, senile and venerable patriarch, well and favorably known to the old fraternity as the "Illinois Thunderbolt," successor to Fitzsimmons, McCoy, Dempsey and Kechel, as the holder of the middleweight championship of the world. Even in his old age Papke is something of a boxer, and for one would not wish to cast any aspersion within reach of his 72-inch arms. "Smiling Billy" he used to be called in the old days when he was engaged in cleaning up at the aspiring middleweight's, sate and expert Stanley Kechel, whom he cleaned up once.

once and by whom he was polished off three times. Papke was born at Spring Valley, Ill., which burg he has ever since called home, on Sept. 17, 1886. His father was a native of Germany, and a coal miner. Billy worked in the mines for a time, and then got a job as clerk and delivery boy in a grocery store. His formal education was scant, but in his travels about the earth he has managed to pick up a lot of general information about this and that, and he is by means an illiterate and unpolished person. He was the recognized leader of the "gang" at Spring Valley, and although kept pretty well occupied in earning a living, found time to develop into a fairly good baseball player and amateur boxer. He was also the crowd owner of a fighting team. Billy was known only as an amateur boxer until he was 29, when he was given a trial as a professional. He was given a job as a sparring partner by Erny Potts. The latter quickly recognized Billy as a comer and induced a LaSalle, Ill., promoter to give him a chance. This man, T. E. Jones, matched Billy with a chap called the Mexican Wonder. Papke was an easy victor and was awarded the decision and the purse, which amounted to $5. His income steadily increased, as he got $7 for knocking out Red Morrissey and $10 for putting away Buster Teggan. Next he got $25 for knocking out Carl Purdy and was well started on the way to fame and fortune.

The story of Papke's career will be continued tomorrow.

SEPT. 16 IN PUGILISTIC ANNALS.

1898—Harry Lewis, whose real name is Henry Besterman, was born in New York. Lewis has scored knockouts or won decisions over a number of prominent heavyweights and welterweights, including Mike Sullivan, Honey Melody, Larry Temple and Young Josephs, but has been twice defeated by Leo Houck.

1904—Tommy Burns and Billy Woods fought 15 rounds to a draw at Seattle, Wash.

1907—Bill Lang defeated Macri Russell in 3 rounds at Melbourne, Australia.

1910—Dick Hyland and Jack Goodman, 10 rounds, draw, at New York.

1910—Abe Attell and Charlie White, 10 rounds, no decision, at Milwaukee.

MAIL BOXES DESTROYED BY AUTOMOBILISTS

Residents in the vicinity of the Blue Jay school house are incensed at the wanton destruction of a number of rural mail boxes there Saturday by a party of automobilists who backed their car into the boxes, smashing them.

The number of the offending machine was secured and the threat is repeated that unless the damage is repaired the authorities will be asked to deal with the situation.

The advertising committee today appointed Harry W. Lewis official decorator. Mr. Lewis' representative, Mr. M. I. Lingenfelter, has arrived in town and will call upon the merchants. Mr. Lewis decorated Newark during the G. A. R. state encampment three years ago.

HUSBANDS AND HOUSECLEANING.

The reason a man wants to get as far away from home as he can during housecleaning is that everything looks so desolate and it seems as if the work never would be done. If you would use Easy Task soap the work would be over in less time and would be done more thoroughly. Easy Task is like the yellow soaps that leave a lot of grease and rosin behind them. It makes everything wet and clean, and it runs the roaches away. Confidently, it is sure death to the "critters" that like to nest in the bedsteads.

Donalds Back Home. Eddie Donalds, Columbus pitcher, who was with the Portsmouth Ohio State League club this season and sold to Cincinnati after that league closed, is back home. He made the Eastern trip or at least a part of it with the Reds, and was found to be just a little shy of major league material. Manager O'Day rejected him and he will probably be returned to Portsmouth.

surf by officers of the training station and cared for at homes near the scene of the wreck.

It was reported that several of the boys were unable to swim and became seasick when the squal struck the cutter.

The boat in which the apprentices went out had a capacity of 60, and was not overcrowded, according to officials of the naval training station.

A. L. Raymond, one of the boys taken from the water, was revived by a pulmotor after several hours.

A pulmotor was sent from Chicago soon after the bodies were recovered. The only body which showed any sign of life was that of Raymond, and experts worked over him for more than an hour before he showed signs of reviving.

Three hours after he had been taken from the water he was breathing normally and opened his eyes. He was removed to the hospital of the training station.

Gunnery Mate Negis, after aiding in the rescue, disappeared. He is said to have told friends that he held himself responsible in a measure for the wreck, and that he feared it might affect his mind.

Paroled from the naval station and volunteer parties of residents are searching the beach for miles. It was after going to the hospital that Negis disappeared.

Homes of the wealthy residents of Lake Bluff were thrown open to the rescued, and hot blankets were provided and restoratives applied.

A survivor told a dramatic story of the tragedy.

Negis wanted to save his boat. He knew that if he, as the only able seaman aboard, returned without his boat he would lose his position. When he had almost reached the shore and he saw that we could not land without smashing the boat, he gave orders to drop anchor. At the same time he headed the boat out to sea.

"Drop anchor!" he said to one of the boys.

"The lad turned pale and stammered.

"Leave I got to obey that order?" he asked.

"Drop anchor!" repeated Negis sharply, and the boy, who had worn obedience when he enlisted, dropped the anchor without a word.

But Negis thought he was doing the right thing—and Captain Fullman is still certain of it. The boat was near the shore.

It seemed almost a certainty that the boys could swim the distance. And still Negis was careful.

First he went into the water himself and found that he could not reach bottom—the peril was not in the depth but in the violent condition of the water.

"Is there anyone here who cannot swim?" demanded Negis as he pulled himself into the boat.

"I cannot swim, sir," said a boy in the bow.

Another boy was in the stern praying.

"I don't know whether I can swim in water like that," he said.

"Come with me, boy, of you," ordered Negis. And he went into the boiling lake with the two boys. Others followed, striking out for themselves.

The boat capsized on a sand-bar just as the last boy left it.

A group of the recruits, fearing to attempt the hard swim, clinging to the upturned boat until the waves and the undertow tore them away. They were witnesses to the heroism of Negis.

He came ashore about 600 yards away. The boys were missing and he could not understand it. But the boys were saved after all. He must have lost consciousness and loosened his hold on them just as he made the shore, for they were found not far from Negis.

Captain Fullman declared that Negis did all that could have been done when he dropped anchor near the shore.

"He thinks he could have beached the boat, but could not," said the commandant. His officers were exhausted and they were helpless against the pull of the water."

Chicago, Sept. 16.—Three more bodies were recovered from Lake Michigan near Lake Bluff today, bringing to eight the list of known dead in the accident yesterday, when a 36-foot cutter, containing 24 recruits of the U. S. naval training station overturned while the party was out sailing. Three boys are still missing. Searching crews are dragging the lake for their bodies.

DENISON OPENS SEASON WITH OHIO WESLEYAN

Denison University opens its football season October 5 in a game with Ohio Wesleyan at Granville. Eight games have been scheduled, but three being slated for Beaver Field at Granville. These are Wesleyan, Wittenberg and Cincinnati.

Coach Livingston has already had the candidates for the eleven out on the turf looking them over. With three weeks yet before the opening game, he has time to develop a fairly good team.

Interesting changes have been made in the rules governing the game and it will hustle most of the followers of the college sport to keep track of the play now.

O'DAY HEADED FOR MINORS IS MILLER'S DOPE

One of the pleasures of the Indianapolis series was to watch the antics of Manager Charles O'Day on the coaching lines. This fine-tuned and dish thrower of the Ohio State League was as docile as a henpecked husband. Imagine this O'Day in the Ohio State League and a decision coming up like the Keene play at the plate Friday. There would have been some uprooting of the turf to get into the umpire's presence and the furniture around the bench would have been badly marred. Not in this polite company, however.

LAKE WATER IS FREE FROM TYPHOID GERMS

According to information from Buckeye Lake, the Columbus officials who sought to trace the Columbus typhoid and malaria to the water park, and to lay the blame upon alleged impurities in the drinking water at the summer resort, have received a severe jolt, following the announcement of the analyses made by the State Board of Health.

On Saturday the state officials visited Buckeye Lake and secured samples of the drinking water and also of the lake water. Each sample was submitted to an analysis for the purpose of revealing the presence of typhoid or malaria germs, should they exist. The results show that in the drinking water and in the water of the large lake there is no trace of either typhoid or malaria, and effectually quashed the attempt of the Columbus functionaries to side-step the responsibility of the epidemic existing under their own supervision.

HUB CLOTHING STORE DOES A NICE BUSINESS

First Week of Newark's Newest Clothing Store is Gratifying to Its Proprietors.

Low prices, unexcelled quality, fair and courteous treatment and a tasteful arrangement of stock, make a decided hit with Newark clothing buyers, if the first week's record of business transacted by the Hub Clothing Store is any criterion. This store, Newark's newest business house, opened up a week ago last Saturday. In spite of the weather last week, the volume of business done far exceeded the expectations of the management.

In conversation with C. F. Rader, the Hub's owner, he stated that he was gratified with the first week's record. "It was better than we figured on," he said, "and we are well pleased."

The Hub store is one of the prettiest in the city. The idea of displaying stocks is distinctive, and, as Mr. Rader said, it is original with the Hub's chain of stores.

"Originality is one of the features of our business," he said. "We make an exclusive study of the clothing and furnishing business and are constantly striving to introduce new and novel features into our business."

The Hub, being one of a chain of several stores of similar nature in Central Ohio, buys clothing in large quantities. With this system of purchasing, each store in the chain is in position to offer the trade the best values in super-quality, up-to-the-minute style of clothing.

"We do not depend upon large profits for our living," said Mr. Rader. "We are satisfied with smaller profits, depending upon the volume of business done to make up the aggregate. Our experience elsewhere has proved out this theory, and we are satisfied to try it in Newark."

The stock in this store is neatly and cleverly arranged. Each suit and overcoat is in plain sight of the customer and each bears its price mark in large figures.

The store is well lighted, making it a safe place for the customer in the selection of goods with regard to quality and color.

Besides carrying a full line of men's clothing and furnishings, the Hub store specializes in children's clothing and hats. An excellent display of suits and hats for the little ones will make this store a popular one for the mothers of Newark.

OVERCOME BY SEWER GAS

Circleville, O., Sept. 16.—Joseph Murphy, 45, of Marion, general contractor, and Charles Thomas of Circleville were overcome by sewer gas shortly before noon today. Both died shortly afterward.

CARDINAL GIBBONS AT DEDICATION OF CATHEDRAL

Baltimore, Sept. 16.—Cardinal Gibbons left here yesterday for Wichita Kan., where he will take part in the dedication of the new Catholic cathedral there.

The Cardinal travelled in a special car, accompanied by Archbishop Keene of Duluth; Bishop O'Connell of Richmond, and Father Ketchum, director of the Catholic Indian Bureau at Washington, D.C.

St. Louis, Archdiocese of Glennon will join the party. Following the Wichita celebration the Cardinal will visit in Kansas City.

CITY OFFICIALS ARE LOCATED IN NEW QUARTERS

Mayor F. M. Swartz is now comfortably located in a suite of four rooms in the Trust building. The office fixtures of the city's chief executive were moved late Saturday afternoon and Monday morning's routine office work was done in the new location.

The mayor's suite is the four rear rooms on the eighth floor. There is a reception room opening off the elevator corridor. From this room opens the mayor's office, a private consultation room and an office for his clerk, Miss Carrie Miller.

The rooms are comfortable, airy and well lighted with the new location. The consultation room is of sufficient size to hold trials where there are too many spectators, but most of these hearings will be held at the city prison.

The city auditor will occupy the two rooms next to the mayor's suite and the clerk of council and safety director's clerk will occupy the two front rooms.

Auditor Wulffhop is preparing to move his office this week. This work will be the biggest task of all. The large steel filing cabinets are very heavy and all the papers and records must be removed from the various sections before they can be moved.

With the removal of these offices to the Trust building, the city officials are pretty well scattered.

The mayor, auditor and council clerk will be on one floor of the Trust building; the city solicitor, Roderick Jones, on another floor. Safety Director Collier on still another floor of the same building. The service director is located in West Church street in the room next to the Marlette Paint and Color company. City Engineer Wells occupies the rear part of this room.

Chief of Police Blizzard has his office at the police headquarters building in the rear of the present building. City Engineer of Weights and Measures, John Zimmerly, has his headquarters in the waterworks repair building in the rear of police headquarters.

It will be several years at least before the city family is gotten together again under one roof. There is little likelihood that a city hall will be built in the next five years and some think it will be ten or even fifteen years before such a building is again owned by the city.

Through a modified order from the fire marshal's office the Central Fire station will be unmoored. The old building will be torn down as far back as the battery room. The present council chamber will be done away with as the second story, now occupied by a council chamber, will be torn down and the battery room and lounge room of the Central house will be but one story in height with a flat roof.

A STATEMENT

The mayor wants to announce that the time spent on the Auditorium stage Sunday night was the most clever stunt he ever went up against. The mayor says he only got on to two of the tricks. "Who do you suppose I saw at the Pennsylvania 5:45 train?" Prof. Williams of Granville and Governor Woodrow Wilson, and we all talked over the political situation. The Governor said that Buckeye Lake postoffice was in my grasp, and the Granville postoffice for Professor Williams.

TEN-MILE TRAIL OF DESTRUCTION LEFT BY TORNADO

Syracuse, N. Y., Sept. 16.—Three persons were killed and 50 injured by a tornado which worked a ten-mile trail of destruction across the northern part of Onondaga county late Sunday. The property loss is estimated at $250,000.

The dead: William Madison, Syracuse; J. Dopp, Fulton; Charles Chapman, Salina.

Without any warning of its approach the black funnel-shaped cloud first appeared near Long Branch, a pleasure resort 10 miles from this place. About 400 persons were there and panic followed when building after building toppled over and two massive interurban trolley cars were hurled into a ditch.

A number ran into a dance hall for safety, but this building was directly in the path of the storm and was demolished. Many persons were injured in it. The wind, thunder, lightning and rain were terrific and trees cracked and fell to the ground.

Rushing westward, the tornado wrecked the bathhouse of the Syracuse University navy, in which was stored the entire crew equipment. All the shells were wrecked and the loss to the university is more than $8000. Raring across the country the tornado leveled everything in its path. Farm houses and barns were blown down. Crops were ruined and scores of head of cattle were killed.

MAKING FARM

POULTRY owners will make money during the winter if they observe a few plain rules of management. Indifferent methods of work result in failure. Fowls must be kept healthy, feed bills must not be allowed to equal the income, and there should be a constant weeding out of old and poor stock. Every summer and fall it is necessary to select the most vigorous and promising pullets for winter egg production, and these fowls need to be fed and managed with that end in view.

At this time of the year all cockerels and old hens that are not intended for breeding purposes should be fattened and marketed. The best way of doing this is to put them in clean pens and feed regularly a well balanced ration. The main part of the food should be ground corn and oats, to which may be added bran or shorts, boiled potatoes or almost any other vegetable. Dry food ought to be softened with skim milk or buttermilk.

If a landowner has wheat, barley or rye these grains may be substituted for corn and oats, but when it can be done without great expense or trouble ground corn and oats should be the staples for fattening as well as for egg production. Do not feed whole oats at any time. After the fowls that are to be marketed are placed in the fattening pens it is essential to feed them regularly and abundantly three

CHANGE TO NEW CORN

Regular Feeders of Steers Approve of Starting Cattle In This Way.

The practice of using new corn for starting cattle in the fall finds favor among regular feeders of steers. But the change from the old, dry, highly nutritious feed, to which the steer has been accustomed, to an entirely different ration—a feed high in moisture content, low in fat and carbohydrates and specially palatable—calls for keen feeding ability, good judgment and skill on the part of the feeder. The individual steer must be dealt with, and the bunch as a whole must be given close attention, as individual feeding pays best.

The steer that has been used to a heating food for some time naturally craves a change to something cooling and succulent. However, at this stage it is not always what a steer likes that causes him to fatten most satisfactorily. Good feeders and herdsmen are often quoted as saying that steers and other animals should be fed what they relish the most, but in changing the food ration from old to new corn many cases would prove very unsuccessful. Succulent feeds are seldom eaten in sufficiently large amounts to make rapid growth possible.

Situations often arise when the old corn supply has run low, the cattle market is on the slump, and the prospects of obtaining a fair price on the market are poor. Such circumstances would possibly put a different face on the food problem, and the feeder might find it to his advantage to accept a little shrinkage and less finish in his stock in preference to selling it for the current prices. These conditions will always come as a result of changing to new corn, but heavy shrinkage may be obviated by close attention to details.—Country Gentleman.

Easily Made Buggy Jack

Few appliances are more convenient than a buggy jack. The one illustrated herewith (the illustration and article are taken from the American Agriculturist) may be made of half inch material in a short time and will save much work. A couple of uprights two and one-half feet or more long are fastened together at their larger ends by nails and at the top by a bolt. At intervals, as shown, holes are then bored through them for a small bolt to pass. To this bolt a strong wire, say No. 9 or 10, is attached. This wire is to engage in notches on a four foot lever of the same kind and size of wood as the uprights. If the buggy is a very heavy one the lever should be of heavier wood, and if for a wagon it should be longer and the uprights stouter. By moving the pin and the wire the lever may be made to lift a wagon.

Feeding the Cow

Always remember that a cow has four stomachs to be considered and is subject to indigestion. The food must be palatable and plentiful, as bulk is one requirement of ruminants, as of all other animals, to keep the digestive tract in good condition.

The first birds of the earth were in the form of flying reptiles.

Newark's Largest Garment Display Is Now Ready

Right now as you read this you no doubt are thinking of the new Coat or Suit you are going to purchase this fall. It's only natural that you want to buy it where the largest assortments are shown, better varieties prevail and lower prices rule. These three essential features you will find embodied in our unrivalled showing this season. ## SEMI-CENTENNIAL OF THE BATTLE OF ANTIETAM

Today is the semi-centennial of the battle of Antietam, sometimes called the battle of Sharpsburg, which was fought Sept. 16 and 17, 1862, between the Federals under Gen. McClellan and the Confederates under Gen. Lee. Antietam, from which the bloody conflict gains its name, is a stream that flows into the Potomac River from the Maryland side. It is some distance above Harper's Ferry, which half a century ago was held by a small force of northern troops. These McClellan decided to withdraw to strengthen his own army, which from successive defeats had fallen into a sad state. In this decision McClellan was overruled. The result was the capture of Harper's Ferry by the Confederates, the defending force being taken prisoners. This led to the failure of McClellan's scheme for crushing Lee's army before it could recross the Potomac. The best he could do was to hold the invaders in check. As the result of Antietam, the Confederates retreated southward and postponed the invasion of the north until the following year, when a second northern invasion was checked on the bloody field of Gettysburg.

CLEAN MONEY ACCEPTED

The Democratic National committee is willing to take any amount of clean, untainted money from individual subscribers in order to meet the legitimate expenses of the Wilson campaign, but the motive of the man, who gives a large amount, will be investigated in order that no big interests shall hold a mortgage on the President or on his administration.

The secretary has announced the policy of the committee in the following:

"The Democratic National committee has placed no limit on the size of the individual subscriptions to its campaign fund and will not do so. It is the character and motive of the subscriber and not the size of the contribution that will determine its acceptability. There are an unlimited number of patriotic and disinterested people in this country devoted to the cause of clean government from whom subscriptions in any amount will be gladly received. The Democratic fight is for the recovery of the government in the interest of the people and, in order to effect that recovery, we shall not limit the number of the contributors nor the size of the contributions

when they emanate from the proper source and are inspired by the proper motive."

REPUBLICANS FOR WILSON

Thousands of progressive Republicans will vote for the Democratic nominee for the Presidency, in the opinion of Rudolph Spreckles, of San Francisco, close friend of Senator La-

Follette and long prominent in the Republican party of California.

"I have given many years of my time and support to the progressive

Republican cause and to honest effort to eliminate political bosses and bring about the establishment of a just and truly representative government, and shall continue to make that fight within my party; but I feel it my duty to support Governor Wilson at the coming election, believing it to be the only proper course left open for one who is sincerely interested in the establishment of progressive legislation in our nation at the earliest moment.

"Today I held a conference with

Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, who stands out as the foremost figure in this nation

as a protector of the lives and health of our children, and he informs me that he is opposed to the election of either President Taft or Theodore

When Governor Wilson calls attention to the benefit derived by American labor from the woolen tariff, as evidenced by the wages paid at Lawrence, Mass., he is pointed, but also pertinent.

Governor Baldwin of Connecticut, has been renominated by the Democrats, who are absolutely unmoved by Roosevelt's denunciation of the Governor a couple of years ago because as

Judge of a Court which rendered a decision that Teddy undertook to criticize. The people of Connecticut elected Judge Baldwin in spite of Roosevelt's attack upon him. He has been an admirable Governor, and the Democrats have nominated him again and will elect him again.

As the Kansas City Journal understands Senator Cummins of Iowa, he will not desert the Republican party.

He will merely support the man who is openly trying to kill it.

The most doubtful guess in this campaign at the present moment is as to which will be third in the race—

Taft or Roosevelt.

The Venice Campanile fell, and architects are in dispute as to the safety of the Leaning Tower of Pisa.

Now we get alarming accounts of the condition of the Mosque, formerly the church of St. Sophia, in Constantinople, the largest and finest specimen of Byzantine architecture in existence.

If the Turkish government shall permit this building to collapse, of which there is said to be serious danger, the world will not forgive it. The building has stood for fourteen centuries, and previous to the conquest of Constantinople by the Turks it was the most notable place of worship of the Orthodox Greek Church. Since that event it has been a Moslem mosque.

If the Turkish authorities are negligent about taking preservative measures the other Governments should combine to preserve this magnificent structure.

Colonel Roosevelt makes claim that the Mormon church is a strong supporter of Taft. And yet Mormonism was denounced as a relic of barbarism

by the Republican party at its first national convention.

The Republican vote of all the states of the Great West and Middle-

West will be so equally divided between Taft and Roosevelt that it will be impossible for either of them to carry a single one of them. These states will cast 232 electoral votes and have heretofore been the bulwark of the Republican party. This year all of them will be in solid array for Woodrow Wilson.

GOVERNOR WILSON DOES NOT FAVOR PRIVATE CARS

Columbus, O., Sept. 16.—Governor

Woodrow Wilson, Democratic nominee for the presidency, passed through Columbus at 8 o'clock this morning en route to Des Moines, Ia.,

where he will speak at the state fair.

His train was an hour late. Governor Wilson will return to this city

Friday to participate in the opening of the Democratic campaign in Ohio.

Piqua, O., Sept. 16.—On Board

Governor Wilson's Special Car: "No more private cars for me unless better arrangements can be made," said

Governor Woodrow Wilson today, with a trifle of irritation in his voice.

The Democratic candidate's private car, according to railroad rules, could not be attached to the train and as a result Governor Wilson was forced to spend all day in the train

when he might have been in Chicago early today. The fact was brought home to the governor as he thought of Senator Gore of Oklahoma, who passed him at Harrisburg

last night.

"Just think of it," said the gov-

two hours after we did and is in Chicago this morning, while we could finish his business and get on going back."

The governor made up his mind that unless the railroad could attach the private car to the train, he would take the ordinary reservation.

They will make their home on the bridegroom's farm.

MILLER-McWILLIAMS.

One of the pretty weddings of the month was solemnized at high noon Sunday, September 15, at the beautiful country home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy McWilliams, north of the city, when their daughter, Elsie Jane, was given in marriage to Mr. Dudley Miller of Newark.

To the strains of the Mendelssohn wedding march played by Miss Jennie Miller, sister of the bridegroom, the bride took its place on the large veranda in front of an improvised altar of ferns and goldenrod, where the ceremony was pronounced by the Rev. Walter D. Ward, pastor of the Central Church of Christ, in the presence of a few friends and the immediate family.

The bride's only attendant was Miss Ocie Miller, sister of the groom, and Mr. Miller was attended by Mr. Karl J. Hopp.

The bride's gown was of white crepe voile over white silk with trimmings of Baby Irish lace. Miss Miller's gown was of white embroidery combined with Valenciennes lace. Immediately following the ceremony a four course dinner was served. Throughout the house the wedding colors of yellow and white predominated. ## REPORT FILED BY RECEIVER OF HOWELL CO.

Requests Court Order to Pay Dividend of 30 Per Cent. to General Creditors—Court News.

In the matter of Nathan Frad vs. The G. E. Howell Provision company, the receiver, A. Nelson Dodd, has filed a report in which he requests an order of the court to pay a dividend of thirty per cent. to the general creditors of the concern.

The report is a statement of all collections and disbursements and includes the conduct of the receiver during the operation of the fertilizer and packing business.

The receiver reports that there are suits pending in the courts which involve the assets and liabilities of the company and make it necessary to continue the receivership and prevent a final settlement at this time. He reports that he has been unable to dispose of all the real estate and most of the machinery, the same having been offered at public and private sale.

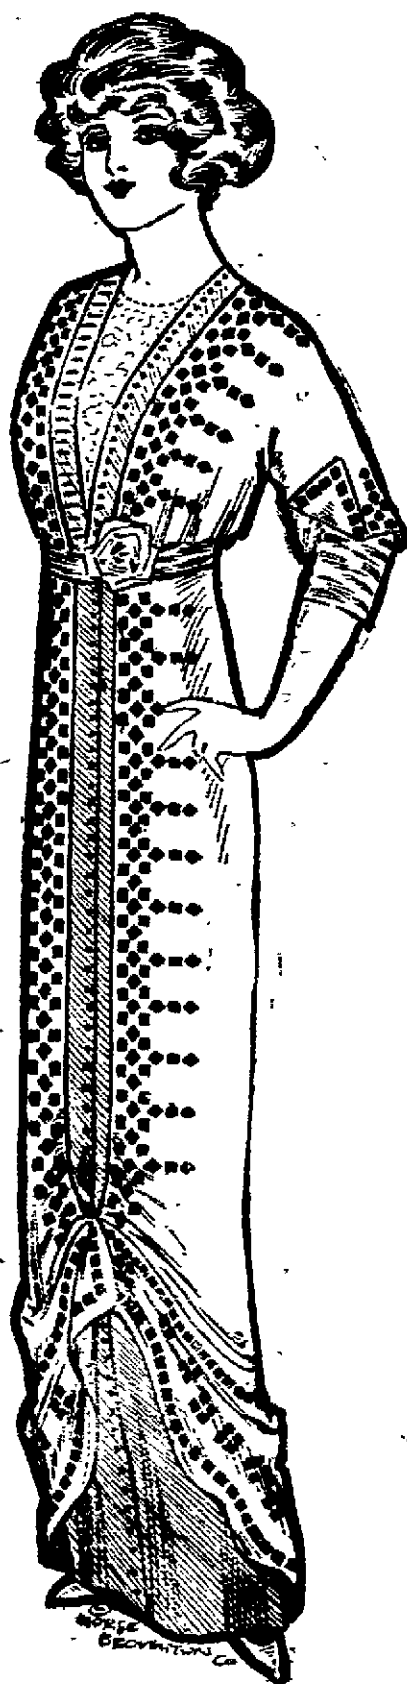

Owing to the fact that some of the claims against the company will be litigated, the receiver has found it necessary to retain the sum of $2,655.32 to take care of these claims, should they be allowed.

The summary of the report gives the cash receipts to September 9, 1912, at $42,696.79, the disbursements to the same date, $19,010.42, and a balance on hand of $24,686.37.

SOLDIERS HOME FINE RETREAT FOR THE OLD VETERANS

Col. Cliff Rosebrough visited the Sandusky Soldiers and Sailors Home Sunday. "Rosey" is loud in his praise of this beautiful home for the brave defenders of the "old flag." The Hospital is conducted by the best surgical and medical officers and assistants obtainable. Many citizens who are misinformed as to the object of this institution have criticised many of its inmates for accepting the benefits extended to all honorably discharged soldiers of all wars, but a visit would no doubt cause them to change their opinion. ## LAST MEETING OF CITY COUNCIL IN OLD BUILDING

A regular meeting of the city council, slated for tonight will be the last meeting ever held in the present council chamber. This week or next all the city's equipment in the building will have been removed to the Trust building where a suite of rooms on the eighth floor has been leased. Tonight's meeting will be a light one, little business being up for consideration. After the city offices are moved to the Trust building, future meetings of the council will be held in the assembly room on the second floor of the new location.

Daddy's Bedtime Story

The Ways Of the Wild Deer

The Indians Shot Deer to Eat.

THE pretty little animal which daddy showed Jack and Evelyn in the picture book was, so he told them, a young deer or fawn.

"A long time ago there were lots of them around here, and the Indians used to go out and shoot them with their arrows. Buffalo and deer meat, with the corn which the women planted in the cleared spaces about their cabins, were the Indians' favorite foods.

"Out on the prairies, where the buffaloes roved, the Indians hunted for buffalo meat, but the flesh of the deer was so much daintier that they liked it best.

"When white men came to America they began to hunt the deer and other wild animals. Like the buffalo, deer are now very scarce except sometimes in wild, out of the way country places.

"About this time of year they are quite tame and often come quite close to farms in their search for food.

"Where there is a lake or pond or stream they may be often seen playing in the water, into which they love to wade.

"The deer is a fine swimmer, and rather than trot around to reach a pasture where there is something good to eat he will swim right across even a good sized lake.

"The deer is a dainty feeder. He loves water lilies, and if there is a bed of them anywhere near the place where he is pasturing the deer will be sure to find it.

"In the deer country herds of them gather in the moonlight to feed on the lilies and other water plants of which they are so fond.

"Some of the best keep guard on the outskirts of the company, and should they hear the slightest noise they warn the others, who are ready to dash away at the first hint of danger.

"The mother deer, with the baby fawns and the year olds, flock together by the water, but the fierce bucks or stags stay deep in the woods until the new horns that have grown out during the summer are hard and ready to fight with.

"For however gentle the mother deer is her mate is a fierce creature. The bucks often fight together in the fall, and sometimes they keep up their battles until one kills the other.

"Not only are the bucks now growing new horns, but all the deer are getting on their thick winter clothes, so that if you should see one you would notice that its coat looked rough and patchy. In the fall, you know, all the woodland creatures are putting on new winter clothes."

ONLY ONE TRUE GOSPEL OF CHRIST

True Message Almost Buried Under Human Tradition.

PERVERSIONS OF GOD'S WORD.

Pastor Russell Says the Gospel of Politics, of Social Uplift, of Wealth, of Society, of Good Works, of Formalism, of Purgatory and Eternal Torment are All False, All Accursed and Condemned—Man's Duty to the Lord.

PASTOR RUSSELL

Providence, R. I., Sept. 13.—We report one of Pastor Russell's discourses to-day from the text, "I marvel that ye are so soon removed from Him that called you into the Grace of Christ unto another Gospel, which is not another; but there be some that trouble you and that would pervert the Gospel of Christ; let him be accursed."—Galatians 1, 6-8.

When we remember that there is but the one Lord, one Faith, one Baptism, presented in the Bible we are astounded to find so many faiths, so many "Gospels," presented by so many denominations, all bearing the name of Christ and all bearing marks of some relationship to the Truth—the Divine Revelation.

St. Paul noted the fact that even in his day the brethren in Galatia had "so soon" turned away, in part at least, from the true Message to another, a perversion. No wonder, then, if during fifteen centuries that Gospel was almost buried under human tradition. And need we wonder that we make such slow progress since in getting back to "the faith once delivered to the saints," the Truth that Jesus declared to be the sanctifying power of God working in His people?

It will not do to say that we have many denominations, but only one Gospel. Denominations were not organized for amusement, but because the founders of each believed that they saw a sufficient reason, a sufficient difference of Gospel, to justify them in forming a new sect. We are bound to admire their zeal for the Truth, which led them often through severe persecutions and through martyrdom towards the Light.

The Galatians' New Gospel.

The new Gospel which the Galatians were disposed to accept was one that is very prevalent today, and is as much to be reprehended today as when St. Paul wrote. Their new Gospel consisted of a mixing of the Jewish Law with the Grace of God in Christ, as the Apostle shows. They said, Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ, surely; He is the Savior, He is the Redeemer; we must believe on Him, but that is not enough. We must become Jews under their Law arrangement, and between the Law and Christ we will obtain salvation. Many Christians today are making the same mistake of adding something to the Gospel of Christ. They hunger for some command, and desire to be under a Law, as a dog used to wearing a collar and chain feels not himself unless thus restrained.

Such dear Christian people, like the Galatians, do not fully appreciate the Master's statement, "If the Son shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed." Such feel lost without Divine commands—Thou shalt, Thou shalt not, etc.—and rejoice specially in holy days and Sabbaths, Church going and formal prayers, because they do not understand that God is better pleased to have us sons than to have us slaves. The poet got the thought correctly when he wrote,

"We can no longer lie
Like slaves beneath the Throne,
Our souls nor 'Abbe, Father,' cry,
And He the kindred owns."

A measure of bondage to forms, ceremonies and commands is probably reasonable to expect in immature Christians, whom St. Paul styles "babes in Christ." (I Corinthians III, 1.) But growth in grace and knowledge must bring such more nearly to the stature of manhood in Christ and to an appreciation of their relationship to God as sons, else they will not make their calling and election sure to the best things that God has provided.

The Social-Uplift False Gospel.

From the most prominent pulpits of Christendom the Gospel of Christ respecting the forgiveness of individual sin, the reconciliation of the individual heart, the individual begetting of the Holy Spirit and the personal walk in newness of life has been discarded. Long ago this Message was considered too personal. Many of the preachers, having had no such experience themselves, properly enough were chary of talking about what they did not understand. But salaries must go on. Sermons, therefore, must be preached, and something must be said. The Social Gospel has been brought forward to fill the gap. The message of the hour, according to this pseudo-Gospel, is not salvation, not following in the footsteps of Jesus, not Bible study, but athletics, usefulness, position in society, attention to political duties, attainment of honorable positions in the world, and great names which will make the Church register shine—and money withal.

Far be it from me to teach inattention to the duties and responsibilities of life. Nothing in the words of Jesus or the Apostles admonishes or exemplifies carelessness in respect to health, manhood, womanhood, education, good name and a proper provision of the things needful to the present life. The Gospel of Jesus and the Apostles, however, tells us—most distinctly impresses upon all the folk woe of Jesus—that their consecration as disciples of Jesus means their death to worldly ambitions for wealth, praise of men, political office and the giving of chief concern to the preservation of their earthly lives. It exhorts that these are all to be considered quite secondary to the new ambitions, the new ideals, set before us in the Gospel.

The followers of Jesus are enjoined to do good unto all men as they have opportunity. This would include, of course, everything akin to social uplift. Indeed, we cannot imagine that any one could be a Christian—a follower of the Lamb of God—without having a deep sympathy with everything appertaining to the welfare of humanity and a social uplift. But the Apostle's expression, "as we have opportunity," is a limitation. The mission of the Christian is not social uplift. That is not the work to which the Lord Jesus and His followers dedicated their lives—at least not the kind of social uplift generally understood.

A Social-Uplift That Will Succeed.

The whole work of God in connection with human Redemption is to be an uplifting work for Adam and his entire race. The uplift which God has planned and which He has revealed in the Bible is to be a most thorough one, such as humanity has never conceived. It is to be an uplift mentally, morally, and physically—back to the image and likeness of God—lost in Eden, redeemed at Calvary. This social uplift of mankind which God is interested in, and of which God is the Center and Fulcrum, is the line in which all the followers of Jesus, rightly instructed, are more interested than any other people in the whole world.

However, the followers of Jesus are soldiers of the cross under His Captaincy, and they are not at liberty to follow theories either of their own or of other men respecting the way in which the great work of uplifting the world is to be accomplished. They are deeply interested in everything which men and women can do for the betterment of humanity in any and every sense of the word. And, as they have opportunity, they are glad to give a word of encouragement and appreciation, or occasionally a helping hand. But theirs is a far more important work. They are co-laborers with God—not with men.

God's Plan is first to select the Church, the Body of Christ, to be His joint-heirs in the glorious Messianic Kingdom. Then He will use that Kingdom for the thorough and complete social uplift, which all agree is so necessary. The world sees not the Divine Plan, and even the Message of the Grace of God is foolishness to them; hence also the world may probably think of Jesus and His followers as chimerical. Their theory, God's testimony, is foolishness to the world—and those who follow the Divine arrangement, as St. Paul says, are counted fools all the day long—because they are spending their lives for the accomplishment of things which the world cannot see, understand, appreciate—"the deep things of God." (I Corinthians II, 10.)

Forms of Godliness.

The Gospel of form and ceremony is not always hypocrisy. If reverential forms and chants and printed prayers always came from the heart and were never merely forms, there would be much in them to approve and enjoy. Still, ceremonies are no part of the Gospel of Christ, and to put them instead of it is to make of them false Gospel. Who will say that either Christ or any of the Apostles presented a Gospel of forms and ceremonies?

The human heart is deceitful above all things, says the Scriptures. It likes to delve into worldliness and frivolity and sometimes into sin, and then to deceive itself into believing that it is the Elect of God and a special subject of His care and sure of heavenly glory. Many such appear to know nothing whatever respecting the Gospel of Christ. Theirs is a Gospel of good works, donations to hospitals, to social uplift and Church work and forms and ceremonies. They feel a burden roll away when they repeat weekly the phrase, "We have done those things which we ought not to have done, and have left undone the things which we ought to have done, and there is no health in us. Be merciful to us miserable sinners."

But any suggestion that these are miserable sinners and need to know the way of the Lord more perfectly, and to become justified saints if they would be heirs of God, they would resent. The Gospel of formalism has done great injury to such people, many of whom, rightly informed respecting the Gospel of Christ, might be greatly blessed, sanctified, and made meet for the inheritance of the saints to light.

As an illustration of the religious stupor produced by the Gospel of formalism and ceremony, let me tell you of a gentleman of prominence in London whom I met recently. He said, "I was out to hear you last Sunday. I was one of that audience of thousands, and I want to tell you that you disturbed me greatly. I did not come away from your meeting happy and contented, but the reverse. I was disappointed. Why, the way you presented the matter, showing the terms and conditions of discipleship in the narrow way, and cross-bearing in the footsteps of Jesus, shocked me. I said to myself, Then I am not a Christian at all. I have not even taken the first steps in the Christian way. But when I went home my good mother-in-law said, 'Do not be alarmed at all—stick to your own religion.'"

The Gospel of Christ was waking that man up out of his lethargy of formalism. I told him that I sought to do my duty in presenting the Gospel of Christ in no uncertain terms and that if he should profit by my message and become a joint-heir with Jesus in His Messianic Kingdom as a result of being waked up, he would thank me for it to all eternity.

Gospel of Hell and Purgatory.

Of all the various things substituted for the Gospel of Christ the most awful perversions are the Gospels of Purgatory and eternal torture. Yet so perverted is the human sensibility to the Truth that if one said he "heard a real Gospel sermon," the majority would understand it to mean that he heard horrible misrepresentations of the Divine character and purpose to the effect that nearly everybody—all except the saints—are enroute for torture at the hands of demons, and that the saints few are to get to heaven and to all eternity look over its battlements at their brethren and sisters in torture and to all eternity to bear their wails of distress.

How terrible the perversion which could call such stuff "good tidings of great joy" which shall be unto all people! I am glad that the Bible Students, recently in Convention, repudiated such a Gospel as being the one of the Bible. I was glad that they called upon the ministers everywhere to declare themselves in no uncertain terms, and I was glad to note through the newspapers a very general repudiation of the torture Gospel. Nothing that the heathen have is as bad, and the wonder is that missionaries have made any progress whatever in heathen lands. For the real Gospel, I believe the real heathen are in readiness, hungering—the Mohammedans also.

The Gospel of Faith-Healing.

Faith-healing is another of the false gospels opposed both to the letter and the spirit of Jesus' teachings. Not a single one of the Lord's disciples was healed miraculously, nor a single Prophet of old. The miracles which Jesus performed were wholly upon outsiders, not His disciples, and were illustrations of how Himself and His Church in Kingdom glory will bless, heal, uplift and restore all the families of the earth—all the willing and obedient. St. Paul blessed napkins and handkerchiefs to be sent to the sick, but never one of these was sent to the brethren. When Timothy was sick, St. Paul instead recommended a change of diet.

Many dear Christian people are misled by the spurious statement of Mark 16: "These signs shall follow them that believe," etc. They cling to the passage even after being given abundant proofs that it was added to the Scriptures in the Seventh Century, and that it was omitted properly from the Revised Version. So deeply seated is the love for the Gospel of healing, that this passage is clung to by some even after it is pointed out to them that they would not dare to eat and drink poisonous things, as it mentions.

The Gospel of Christ, as applied to this Age, is the very reverse of the gospel of healing. Jesus, who was perfect, laid down His life in doing good for others. His Apostles did the same. Indeed the stipulation of discipleship is, He that loveth his life and seeketh to save it will lose it; he that loseth his life sacrificially for My sake and for the Gospel's shall find it. The Gospel of Christ is the Gospel of self-denial and suffering and patient endurance—joy in the Lord and health of spirit, rather than joy and health of the flesh. True, godliness and contentment do often bring to God's people an increase of health through their rest of mind. But this is neither promised to them nor to be prayed for by them. On the contrary, they are to follow the example of the Redeemer in laying down their lives for the brethren.

The True Gospel of Christ.

In combating the errors we have incidentally presented the Gospel of Christ. It is a Message that God proposes to bless the world through the Seed of Abraham, and that Jesus glorified is that Spiritual Seed. It is a message respecting His Kingdom which shall shortly be inaugurated with power and great glory for the blessing of Adam and all his race with human Restitution, giving to all fullest opportunity of return to the Heavenly Father's love through the merit of the great Sacrifice accomplished at Calvary. It is a Message, too, that the Redeemer, before taking the Throne of His glory, in harmony with the Divine Program, is now calling, choosing, and proving a "little flock" of believers justified through faith in His blood.

These are to be made perfect through suffering, through sacrifice, by walking in the Master's footsteps. They have the promise that if they suffer with Him, they shall also reign with Him; if they be dead with Him, they shall also live with Him. Whoever sees, hears, appreciates, this true Gospel of the Grace of God in Christ finds in it the power of God unto salvation. The more fully he receives it the more does he possess the power of the Truth, which, if co-operated with, will work in Him to will and to do the Father's good pleasure and eventually make him an heir of God and a joint-heir of Jesus Christ the Lord and the Heavenly Kingdom and eternal life in glory.

PRESENT TARIFF FOSTERS FRAUDS

Domestic Cotton Fabrics Sold Americans as "Imported."

CHEATING THE CONSUMER

Less Than 2 Per Cent Comes From Abroad, but Americans Pay Exorbitant Prices For Home Goods Because of Deception and Prohibitive Tariff.

By ROBERT KENNETH MACLEA,
[Formerly consulting expert of the tariff board.]

New York, August.—The prohibitive tariff, revised upward by the Payne-Aldrich law, permits and fosters wholesale frauds upon the American consumer of cotton goods.

Less than 2 per cent of the cotton fabrics consumed in the United States comes from abroad, because the protective duties have been made so high that importation is unprofitable.

Yet fully one-third of the cotton piece goods going over retail counters is sold as "IMPORTED" or under names implying a foreign origin.

This deception is generally perpetrated upon the consumer for the purpose of obtaining exorbitant prices for domestic goods.

The consumer believing the goods are imported and knowing that the tariff adds excessively to their cost, pays 50 to 100 per cent more than a fair price and does not suspect that he is being cheated.

Dresses the Pocketbook.

Let us go straight to a specific example of the operation of this fraud. Take the tariff board's cloth sample No. 56, described as a "printed dimity." This is a medium priced cotton fabric known to almost every American housewife. What woman or girl hasn't possessed a dimity dress within the last few years? And if she went to the cotton goods counter and bought the material by the yard she no doubt saw such signs as:

IRISH DIMITY,
25.

The World's tariff editor visited with me a department store in a New England city of 100,000 inhabitants and found recently a counter piled with these goods, placarded:

REAL IRISH DIMITY,
19 cts.

We procured samples of all of them. There was not one piece of imported goods in the lot. Investigation proved that the store buyer had purchased these "Irish" dimities from a Boston jobber at 10 cents a yard and that they were made in a New England mill. Here was a supposed "bargain" in a supposedly "imported" fabric, on which the retailer was taking a profit of 90 per cent!

This happens to be a fabric representing the highest efficiency in American manufacturing. It is a class of goods in which we can compete advantageously with any country in the world. The tariff board's investigation discovered on sample No. 56 an American cost of production of 7 1/3 cents a yard. In all the mills investigated the board's representatives found that the low and high costs of manufacture of this fabric did not vary half a cent a yard.

Who Gets the Profit?

The manufacturer of this American dimity, that is sold as "imported" and "Irish," does not get the excessive profit. In some instances the manufacturer does, but here he sells to the jobber at 8 cents, taking only a nominal manufacturing profit of two-thirds cent a yard. The jobber sells to the retailer at 10 cents, a 25 per cent margin for the jobber.

In Canada, with 25 per cent tariff, a cotton fabric costing 10 cents a yard would be sold to the consumer at 12 1/2 or sometimes at 15 cents if the pattern happened to be in special demand. In the United States, with its prohibitive tariff, the retail price is always much higher. The standard price retail is 15 cents for the fabric wholesale at 10. But when the tariff is excessive—it is 54 per cent on this printed dimity—the dishonest retailer can "get away with" the deception and double or more than double his normal profit by selling the domestic article as "imported." The retailer knows that he could not buy a genuine imported dimity of this quality from a foreign manufacturer's agent in New York for less than 15 1/2 or 16 1/2 cents, and the trade would retail this at 25. He compares the domestic and foreign fabrics and finds the American made is equal in every respect to the fabric from abroad. So he says to himself, "Why not sell it as foreign goods at a price will make it attractive?"

The extent of this deception is not realized by the majority of manufacturers, but some mills—usually those that have cried loudest and worked most insistently and quietly for excessive duties—have been and are parties to this fraud by labeling their goods or permitting them to be labeled by their selling agents "imported."

Mill Man Pockets It.

In some cases the manufacturer takes the tariff favor for his own pocket. Tariff board sample No. 34 illustrates this. No. 34 is a fancy white goods used for dress wear. Its manufacturer encountered a fair demand for this material during the past season. Table No. 169 of the tariff board's report shows a manufacturing profit of 90 per cent. It costs to manufacture this cloth 12 1/2 cents a yard. The mill refuses to sell to any one except the jobber, and through this channel the cloth reaches the retailer at 22 1/2 to 25 cents a yard. The retailer charges the consumer 35 to 39 cents.

For comparison take the value of the fabric on weight. At the manufacturing cost of 12 1/2 cents a yard one pound of this goods is worth $1.23 as it leaves the mill. When it reaches the consumer (at 39 cents a yard) the price has been boosted to $4.20 a pound.

The manufacturing cost of this cloth in England is practically the same as here, yet the English manufacturer sells it for 15.44 cents a yard, the jobber at 17.26 cents and the retailer at 22 cents.

Bear in mind that the "difference in cost of production at home and abroad" in this class of fabric represented by sample No. 34 amounts to nothing, but the Payne-Aldrich tariff on it equals 55.89 per cent, or 8 1/2 cents per running yard.

Fancy goods of the type of sample No. 34 are products of the Lippitt-McColl class of mills. The Payne-Aldrich bill raised the duty on this cloth from 35 to 55.89 per cent. Is it any wonder that Senator Lippitt and Mr. McColl were interested in amending the Payne bill while it was in Senator Aldrich's committee when such amendments would permit them to take a manufacturer's profit of 90 per cent?—New York World.

THE TARIFF IN SUMMER DRESS FOR HOT-WEATHER READING.

17 CENTS OR 25?

15 1-5 CENTS OR 20?

A fancy wash fabric manufactured in New England for 9 2/3 cents a yard is sold by the manufacturer at 14 1/2 cents—a manufacturing profit of 47 1/2 per cent, less selling expenses of 5 or, at most, 6 per cent. The jobber (wholesale distributor) adds 3 1/2 cents—a profit of 22 1/2 per cent, less selling expenses. The retailer adds another 4 2/3 per cent, and the American housewife gets the cloth at 25 cents—cloth that in England can be bought retail for 17 cents, identical in weave and quality! WHY?

Cotton curtain scrim, found in millions of homes, is made in America at a cost that gives the manufacturer ample profit, selling it to the print works at 6 cents a yard. The print works sells to the jobber at 10 1/3 cents, although it finishes the goods at a cost of 1.37 cents. The jobber adds 20 per cent, laying down the curtain scrim to the department store at 12 1/2 cents. The retailer charges the American housewife 19 to 29 cents. More than likely he advertises it as "IMPORTED" and sells it for the top price, because the tariff is so high that the genuine imported goods cannot be sold for less. It costs just as much in England to make this curtain material, yet the English retailer sells it for 15.22 cents (7 1/2 pence) a yard, against 19 to 29 cents under the American tariff! WHY?—From N. Y. World.

PROGRESSIVE MEMBERS

on the question of the presidency. Shall they support Roosevelt or Taft or throw their influence quietly to Wilson? Shall they hold themselves aloof from the presidential entanglement entirely?

These are questions the Progressive Republican members of congress, who in recent years have been a tremendous force at each end of the capital, are constantly asking themselves. And few of them have determined, at least publicly, how they are going to answer the interrogatories.

The difficulty of the situation, from their standpoint, is that whatever course they may decide to take seems to spell political extinction. They are threatened with being ground up between the upper millstone of standpatism in the Republican party and that undercurrent of progressivism which manifested itself in the formation of the Bull Moose party.

The influence of the Progressives in congress in this remarkable situation will be cast generally speaking, in one of two directions. It will be thrown to Roosevelt or to Woodrow Wilson. President Taft will get practically no Progressive support, so far as the Progressive members of the house and senate who are seeking re-election are concerned.

At a recent conference of Progressive senators, at which La Follette, Kenyon and others were present, this was the feeling expressed. It was an informal talk. But the notion that Progressive senators decided to get out on the stump and make a fight in behalf of President Taft is erroneous. Some of them will support the Republican ticket, reserving the right as Republicans to support Roosevelt for president. Others will take the stump for the Republican ticket, but yield only a perfunctory support of Taft.

Such support will do President Taft no good and will really help either Roosevelt or Wilson.

Most of the Progressives in congress, however, are not yet out in the open. They are pondering on what course to take. They are, as a rule, not ready to become third party men and run with the Bull Moose herd. Sentiment in their districts or states will not permit them to champion Taft. On the other hand, to come out for Roosevelt and try to maintain their regularity as Republican party men means to invite reprisals from the old guard Republicans.

So most of them are noncommittal and will commit themselves only when they actually take the stump and are forced to. When they go out in the campaign some men in front rows will ask: "Who are you for for president?"

Then it will hardly be possible to dodge the question or to avoid taking a definite stand one way or the other.

The course of Senator La Follette is being watched with the keenest interest here. The course taken by him will be followed by thousands of Progressive voters. Senator La Follette in one way and another in recent weeks has struck hard at Col. Roosevelt. He is sore at the colonel and under no circumstances can he be induced to support him.

On the other hand, he will not support President Taft, save as he may aver that he is a Republican, and will support the Republican ticket. The point to the business is that no matter how regular Senator La Follette may protest he is, the nature of the material he is publishing weekly through his publication is such as to hurt Roosevelt and be inimical to Taft.

What then is the effect? Obviously to drive votes in the direction of Wilson, and there is little question that great numbers of the votes of La Follette's followers will be thrown to Wilson.

That a number of the present Republican members of the house who are seeking re-election, both Progressive and regular or standpat, will be driven to retire from the ticket is expected. This statement is true as to various states. The determination of the Bull Moose leaders to butt into districts and put up third party candidates where the Republican nominee for congress does not declare for Roosevelt will force a number of Republican nominees in discouragement to drop out of the running.

PROBING OF CAMPAIGN CONTRIBUTIONS

Washington, Sept. 16.—Senator Pomerene of Ohio, is here for a conference with Senator Clapp, the chairman of the special senatorial committee which is to investigate campaign contributions, including the relations of the Standard Oil Company with public men and the sources of the pre-convention funds of the presidential candidates this year.

Senator Pomerene is one of the two minority members of the special committee, and it is anticipated he will have a heavy role to perform as a cross-examiner.

Senator Clapp admitted that he has written letters to over 200 men scattered throughout the country whose testimony it is believed, will tend to bring out important facts.

A LESSON FROM OUR ANCESTORS

In the good old fashioned days of our grandmothers they depended upon the roots and herbs of the field to relieve disease.

"NOBODY LOVES A BALD MAN"
Every day we see YOUNG men and women, who have grown prematurely grey. They immediately fall into the "Old Age" class, because grey hairs are so closely associated WITH OLD AGE.

It is extremely disconcerting and humiliating to be bald—to be grey when the years do not justify it. The girls laugh at the young men so married—the young men soon learn to discriminate between natural hair in its full bloom of health and NATURAL COLOR, and shabby looking grey and faded hair.

Give nature a chance. If she is encouraged, stimulated, assisted, she will give you a head of hair that you will be proud of. Give it to her. Use—

Mexicans Celebrate Their Independence Day Today

With revolutionary bands roaming through many sections of the republic, and with the entire country in a state of unrest and uncertainty, Mexico's celebration of its independence day today will not be an entirely happy one. Madero, scholar and philosopher, has not been able to rule with the iron hand of his predecessor. He has corrected many abuses, but others have sprung up in their stead, and the last state of the republic is little better than the first. Porfirio Diaz, who so long ruled over the destinies of the Mexicans, will celebrate in his European retreat the natal day of his native soil.

In a recent interview, the former president declared that the followers of Madero believed that if they made him president the haciendas would be partitioned among them and that they would soon enjoy an era of great prosperity. When they found that Madero would not carry out their wishes they turned against him and joined the banners of other leaders. Despite the unsettled condition of the country, the people of Mexico will doubtless observe the anniversary of their freedom in the usual enthusiastic manner. Few Mexicans overlook an opportunity to enjoy a holiday with its accompanying feasts and merriment. Holidays occur frequently on the Mexican calendar, though today's anniversary is the most important and generally observed.

WATERWORKS FOR INDIA.

From immemorial time the Oriental has drawn his water from a public well, which was frequently infested as well as filthy. Lured with rumors and has retained it throughout his cities in spite of the lack of men. To a large extent, this custom prevails in India today. In all the large cities, however, the Government of India has provided modern waterworks, with the more convenient fountains. The Mohammedans and the low-caste population use these fountains, and even for bathing, as the picture shows. It was made during the visit of the Hamburg-American "Cleveland" party to the city of Agra, where the Taj Mahal is located. The high-caste native cannot use this public fountain, because it would degrade his caste. In some cases there are public drinking fountains at which he may safely quench his thirst, however. This is achieved by having the fountain fenced in and placing a high-caste native in charge. When a low-caste man wishes to drink, the man in charge scoops the water up in a jar and pours it in the man's hands. In this way he does not pollute the fountain by touching his lips to the faucet. In Benares the population refused at first to take the water that came through the water-mains, because the pipes had been made by Europeans and handled by Mohammedans. It was pointed out to them, however, that the water of the Ganges is so holy that it purifies everything it touches—even water-mains. They had overlooked that fact, so to-day Benares is drinking from the waterworks.

ARROGANT ACTION OF STREET RY. CO. ON CITY'S STREETS

(Communicated.)
"How long, Oh, Lord, how long!" is the question being fervently asked by the residents along West Church street between Sixth and Eleventh in reference to the high handed and arrogant action of the street railroad company regarding the fixing of their tracks along this stretch of street.

There is no city in Ohio which would weekly and tamely submit not only to the complete domination of a railroad corporation but allow it to wantonly endanger the health of the community and inconvenience a large proportion of the citizens who have to use the cars. The ordinance granting the franchise under which this company is operating, has been violated times without number, and the contract broken by the car company. It is going on continuously and has been for so long a time that the rights of the city have been completely lost sight of, and the street railway people have come to consider themselves immune from the application of any law or ordinance.

The company has had reason so to think, as the city has been shamefully subservient to its dictates and hesitative of its encroachments. But the time has come for Newark to wake up to a realization of this fact that the street car company is beholden to the city for its right to operate in Newark at all, and that it is a fact of law, that this operation of cars must be in accordance with ordinances of the city and the provisions of the franchise and not just as the company sees fit, regardless of the rights, comforts, convenience and health of the citizens.

Church street has been torn up for over three months, and was done by the company under the pretext of fixing the tracks, and it has dilapidated along in the work until it has become more than ludicrous, it is disgusting.

The repairing done has been a huge joke. The joints are no better there has been no improvement in the rails which are the same that have been down, and even from Eleventh to Tenth where the bricks have been replaced between the tracks, the street is in far worse condition than it was before the bluff was made of improving it. The track is so rough that it is impossible in some of the homes along the line of the road to keep gas manurels on the lights, the water and gas connections are being racked and jolted out of their relative soundness, to say nothing of the noise and clatter, and the discomfort of riding in the cars.

Now the question is a very simple one and the answer equally easy. "Is the city going to stand for it, when a remedy lies in its hands to do away with this nuisance?"

The remedy is simply for the director of service who has charge of the city's streets to get an injunction, stop the work, and compel the company to do it in a skillful, workmanlike manner, and put the street in a condition satisfactory to the engineer of the service department.

The best lawyers in Newark say this easy remedy is available and why not try it or some other equally efficient?

ENGLAND IN SOUTH AFRICA.

It was 117 years ago today that England gained a foothold in South Africa by taking possession of the Cape of Good Hope, which had been a Dutch colony since 1652. The Cape remained in the hands of the English until 1802, when it was restored to Holland by the peace of Amiens. Four years later the British flag was again hoisted over the Cape, never to come down, and the colony was finally ceded to England in 1814. From the Cape the power of England spread northward, until, after a long resistance by the Boers, the whole southern part of the dark continent passed to England, Cape Colony, Natal, Orange Free State and the Transvaal were joined into the union of South Africa under a constitution which received the royal assent three years ago come Friday. Both Boers and Britishers have prospered as never before under the government of the new Union, and perhaps a majority of the Boers are now glad they lost.

AMUSEMENTS

"Honey Boy" Minstrels.
George Evans' "Honey Boy" Minstrels, who come to the Auditorium Theatre, Sept. 19, compose the only organization of its kind which secures books and notes through the office of Klaw & Wagner. This means that they appear only in the first class theatres and offer a divertissement sanctioned by the leading theatrical exchange of America, which books theatres located in various parts of the United States and Canada. The minstrels require three large cars from every railroad with which they have transportation contract. Two of these are used for the scenic and electrical effects of the production, and the third is a coach of the Pullman type for the 50 members of this company of America's representative minstrels.

Blanch Walsh Pictures Tonight.
The attraction at the Auditorium tonight will be a celebrated Blanch Walsh picture. This is Miss Walsh's first appearance in moving pictures and it is said she has made a wonderful success of it in "Resurrection" Miss Walsh is seen as a peasant girl who falls in love with a Russian nobleman and the trials and tribulation that she has to go through form one of the strongest stories imaginable. The pictures are in four parts, and must be seen to be appreciated.

Sousa and His Band.
Every true American feels a glow of pride in his countrymen when he hears of the recognition of their great achievements in foreign lands. It was John Philip Sousa who took his famous band around the world, giving concerts in every musical centre, before the most critical audiences, beating down all prejudice and winning the universal verdict for himself and his musicians of being unequalled. It would be well to bear in mind that that same Sousa and his band will be here at the Auditorium Monday, Sept. 23, with the same soloists, Miss Virginia Root, soprano, Miss Nicoll-Zedeler, violinist, and Herbert A. Clarke, cornetist, who went around the world. Seat sale opens Friday at 9 a. m.

POLITICAL PRAIRIE FIRE IN THE WEST

New York, Sept. 16.—Judge M. J. Wade, national committeeman from Iowa arrived in New York from Chicago headquarters.

"We have a regular prairie fire in the West, made up of Wilson sentiment," said Judge Wade.

"The situation is growing more favorable to Democratic success at every tick of the clock. There is no telling where Roosevelt and Taft will stand. Personally I think that Roosevelt will run second in the majority of the western states. I feel that he will run second in Iowa, but our state chairman, who is a most excellent political judge, tells me that Roosevelt will not get more than 40 per cent of the Republican vote, and there you are."

"The Roosevelt sentiment has not crystallized, but is scattered and running around like so much mercury. We of the west are wonderfully pleased over the labor sentiment that is turning to Governor Wilson every day. The labor vote of this country is one of the most important factors in an election. The laboring man is doing his own thinking and he is going to vote as he sees fit. So far we find extraordinarily good news in labor circles."

DEAD MAN NOT JOSEPH CUFF OF MT. VERNON

The plain slab in the potter's field at Cedar Hill cemetery, bearing the name of Joe Cuff will have to be changed, according to information received from Mt. Vernon, where Cuff formerly resided.

A friend of Joe Cuff, who visited Mt. Vernon Friday declared that he had seen and talked to Cuff four hours before and at that time the man was alive and well.

It will be remembered that the body of a stranger was picked up along the B. & O. tracks near Holler's crossing north of the city. It was removed to the McGonagle morgue and prepared for burial. On Monday afternoon a woman who claimed that she knew Cuff identified the body as that of the former Mt. Vernon man. It was buried under that name at the expense of the county.

According to the statement of Cuff's friend, the man is now at New Straitsville where he is employed in the gas fields.

HOW IT WAS NAMED.

Nottingham lace was so called because it originally was made by the semi-savage people who lived in the caves in England. By keeping the work between them and the dark mouth of the cave the women could work the pattern easily. Nottingham, or any other lace, even the finest and finest, can be washed safely and quickly with Easy Task soap, which is a natural scientific cleanser and leaves the lace in the best condition. Easy Task costs but five cents a cake at your grocer's.

YOUNG FARMER IS ARRESTED FOR ASSAULT

Zanesville, Sept. 16.—A modern Valjean case came to light here yesterday when Luther S. Lloyd, aged 26, was arrested on extradition papers from Governor Harmon and taken to Clarksburg, W. Va., his former home, to answer to an indictment charging assault with intent to kill.

Four years ago, it is said, Lloyd and his brother waylaid a physician against whom they had a grudge and assaulted him. Lloyd is charged with cutting the doctor with a knife, disfiguring him for life. He escaped and came to Muskingum county, where he has lived the life of a farmer for four years.

Lloyd saved his money, bought a little farm, and just four weeks ago married Miss Hazel Allender, aged 18, daughter of a farmer. The young bride packed her belongings and accompanied her husband and the officer to Clarksburg.
